Why set up Constellations for issues and goals?

The process of Constellation Work is experiential and multi-dimensional, uncovering hidden (unconscious) dynamics in the family, organizational, business or collective system. When we acknowledge previously invisible, limiting dynamics in the system of belonging (family, workplace, institution), we free up more energy – lifeforce, money, etc. - align with our goals and balance our relationships. Constellation Work benefits individuals and the systems to which they belong.

This series will provide a basic understanding of the philosophy of Constellation Work and through examples of various set-ups, will engage participants in the experience, as well as the principles, of this profound and creative method of healing and resolution.
